Weekly Scripture

Virtues, Explained!

The virtue of abstinence describes the act of refusing, to any extent, food or types of food. On its own, this action does not produce grace within a soul. However, when regulated by reason and performed in pursuit of sanctification, it is a pious form of mortification of the flesh.

Abstinence is compelled by the fourth precept of the Catholic Church ("You shall observe the days of fasting and abstinence established by the Church.") This precept "ensures the times of ascesis and penance which prepare us for the liturgical feasts and help us acquire mastery over our instincts and freedom of heart," says the Catechism (CCC 2043).

St. Thomas writes that the virtuous act of fasting is ordered to three ends: first, to control the appetites of the flesh; second, "that the mind may arise more freely to the contemplation of heavenly things," as we see so often in Scripture; and third, in reparation for sin (II:II, 147, Art. 1).

Sunday's Readings

First Reading

She brings him good, and not evil,
all the days of her life.
She obtains wool and flax
and works with loving hands. (Prv 31:12-13)

Psalm

Blessed are those who fear the Lord. (Ps 128)

Second Reading

But you, brothers and sisters, are not in darkness,
for that day to overtake you like a thief.
For all of you are children of the light
and children of the day. (1 Thes 5:4-5)

Gospel

"'Since you were faithful in small matters,
I will give you great responsibilities.
Come, share your master's joy.'" (Mt 25:21)

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Matthew 25:14-30

A friend once took his young adult son to the casino for his birthday. He handed him $100 and said, "Let's have a great time." The son, a graduate student with limited money, quietly pocketed the money and refused to play. "I don't want to lose it," he said. But he missed the point: the money was not really his to pocket; it was his father's invitation to share an experience together.

God sees our gifts a bit like this. In Jesus' parable, a servant buries his master's talent and explains: "Master, I knew you were a demanding person…so out of fear I went off and buried your talent in the ground" (Matthew 25:24-25). The master condemns him not for failure but for refusing to risk. The servant's fear distorts his image of the master and leads to a small, loveless response. No love, no risk. No risk, no relationship.

How easily we fall into this trap! We treat God's gifts as fragile possessions rather than invitations. We play it safe, avoid risk, and tell ourselves we are wise and God is cruel. But Jesus praises those who trust the Master's goodness enough to act boldly. They are not reckless but confident enough in their Master to risk their gifts for Him.

So, what is my interior story about God right now? Is it marked by generosity, adventure, and trust? Or by fear, caution, and suspicion? That hidden narrative shapes everything. Because love, by its nature, always takes risks with, and for, the beloved.

— Father John R. Muir

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC

In today's Gospel reading, Jesus shares the Parable of the Talents, encouraging his disciples to show themselves as "good and faithful" stewards of the Gospel.

Professional Catholics

They call us "professional Catholics."

You know many of these folks. Maybe you are one (I am). Maybe it's part of your actual job to work for the Church. "Manna from Heaven," I once called it — the privilege of seeing your bills paid by money earned talking about God.

I was having dinner with a friend recently who works in a local parish. She shared with me that some of her colleagues don't seem to have much of a devotional life outside of their jobs. Some don't even attend regular Mass, though their lives revolve around the Church.

"That's terrible," I said, not wanting to think of the holy hours I haven't had time for, the Rosaries I haven't finished, and the stack of spiritual books next to my desk, spines uncracked.

You don't have to earn a paycheck to be a professional Catholic. A professional Catholic can be anyone who spends a good deal of time simply identifying as a disciple, without embracing what that actually means.

See, I was wrong to call it "manna from Heaven." Manna merely sustains life, and we shouldn't be satisfied with that. The reward of a disciple should be more.

The opportunity to spread the Gospel is a fortune, lavishly endowed to the care of a servant by a master who is long delayed. He doesn't care about return on investment. He'll be just as pleased with a twofold increase as a five-fold one. It's not about profits. It's about engagement.

How terrible will it be, when I stand before God, if all I can tell Him is this: "I did my job. I was a professional."

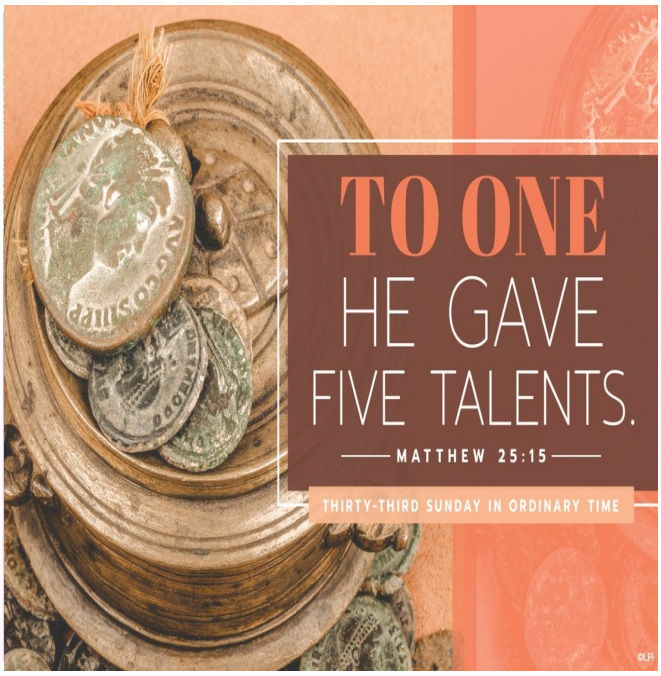

I want to tell Him I did more. I pray I can tell Him I did more.

Liturgical Life

Why Do We Do That?

Catholic Life Explained

Question

Why are Catholics required to give money to the Church?

Answer

Offering money and other goods to God and the Church is, before all else, a statement of gratitude. We see this when we look at how our spiritual ancestors showed their gratitude to God for the gifts they had received (e.g. Genesis 14:18-20 and Genesis 28:16-22). One of the ways they offered thanks to God was through a practice called "tithing," in which 10 percent of a person's goods (crops, livestock, money, etc.) were given back to God.

Today, the practice of tithing — giving 10 percent — is still common in many Protestant communities, but it is not required for Catholics. Instead, the Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches us that, "The faithful also have the duty of providing for the material needs of the Church, each according to [their] own abilities" (no. 2043). This means that, although we are not bound to practice "tithing" in the traditional sense, we do share a responsibility to share our money or other resources with our parish communities. Like our spiritual ancestors, we give as a sign of our gratitude for the many gifts that God has given to us. Beyond this, we also share our resources with other Catholic organizations to help them finance their ministries, to continue and grow their outreach to the poor and the needy, and to provide just wages for their employees.

How much we give depends on our individual circumstances, but since we share a responsibility for the programs, outreach, and health of our parish communities and Catholic organizations, this question gives us a wonderful opportunity to ask some important questions about the quality of our giving and what our priorities are. Remember, we are only stewards of our time, talents, and treasures and as the First Letter of Peter reminds us, "As each one of you has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God's varied graces" (4:10).

Catholic Trivia

What is the name of the candles set in front of statues inside a church?

Answer: Vigil/votive candles

"After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. The one who had received five talents came forward bringing the additional five. He said, 'Master, you gave me five talents. See, I have made five more.'" - Mt 25:19-20

Questions of the Week

Invite Parishioners to Reflect & Respond to Scripture

First Reading Question

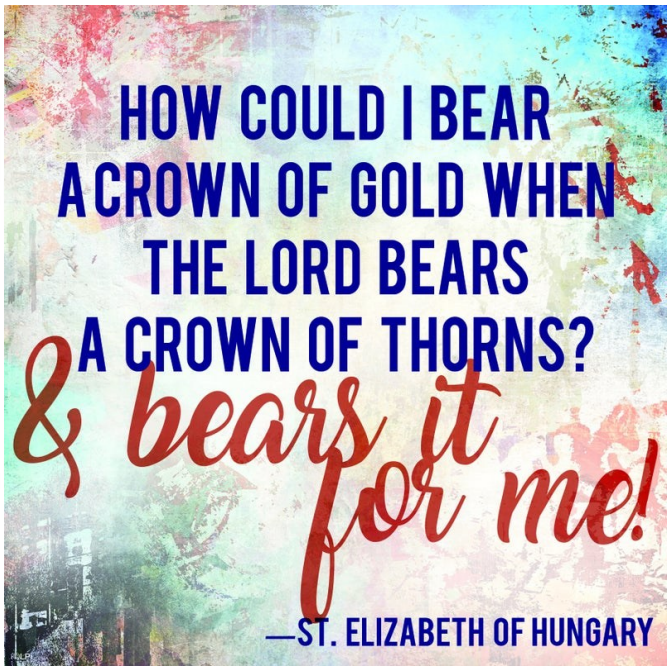

Proverbs explains how a kind, wise, and loving wife is an invaluable treasure to a husband. What qualities do you think make for a healthy and life-giving marriage?

Second Reading Question

Paul urges the Thessalonians to remain focused on the return of our Lord Jesus Christ. Is there something that needs your urgent attention this week?

Gospel Question

In the Parable of the Talents, Jesus teaches the importance of investing in the gifts God has given each of us. What would others say are your God-given gifts?

St. Elizabeth of Hungary

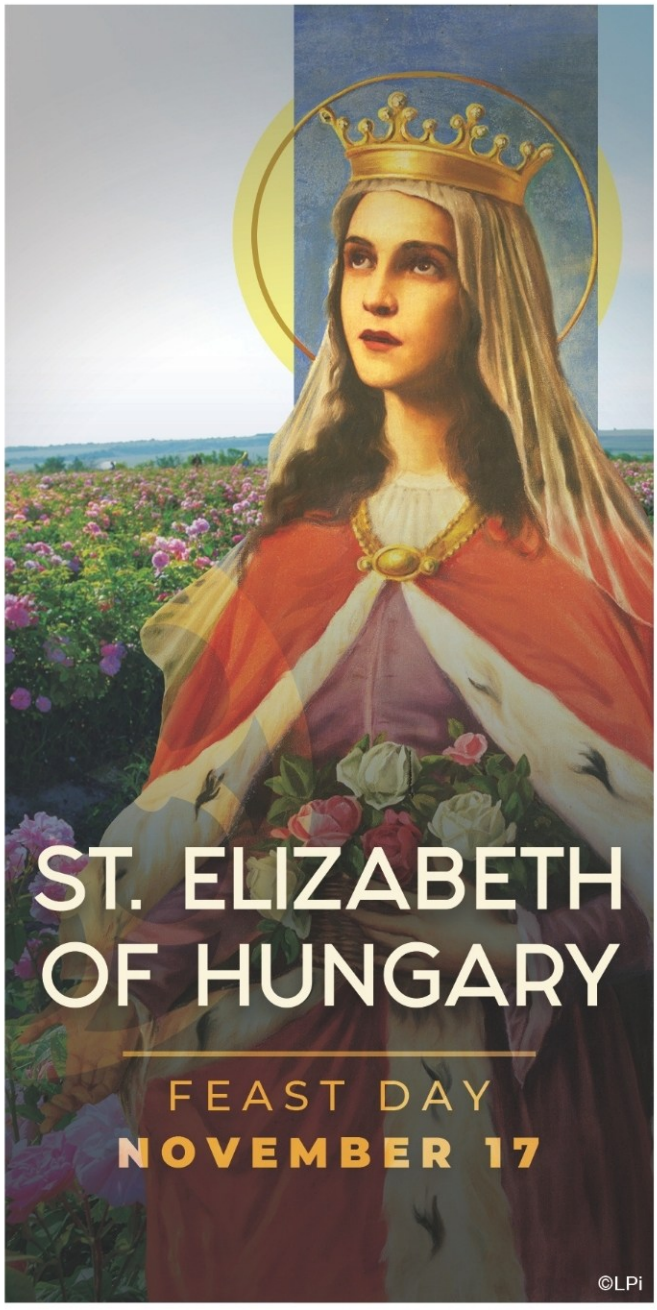

Pray for us!

Although her life was short, St. Elizabeth of Hungary (1207 – 1231) is recognized for her love of the poor and suffering, and as patroness of Catholic charities and the Secular Franciscan Order. The daughter of the King of Hungary, she chose a life of penance instead of leisure, which made an impact on the "commoners" she served.

Married at 14 to Louis of Thuringia, she had three children and used her wealth for prayer, sacrifice, and service. After Louis died in the Crusades, she was mistreated and expelled from the palace, but later restored because her son was heir.

In 1228, she joined the Secular Franciscan Order and founded a hospital in honor of St. Francis of Assisi, caring for the sick and needy. She died at 24 and was canonized four years later. She is patroness of Catholic charities, the Secular Franciscan Order, bakers, beggars, brides, hospitals, homeless people, and widows.

Message from Bishop Anthony B. Taylor

Greetings, Catholic men.

What is your game plan for Super Bowl weekend?

Before you watch the big game on Sunday, I invite you to begin the weekend in the best possible way, with your brothers in Christ, growing deeper in faith and being renewed by the Eucharist.

I personally invite you to the 16th Arkansas Catholic Men's Conference at Christ the King Parish in Little Rock, Saturday, February 13th, 2027, starting at 7:00 AM.

This year's theme is Living Christ: Nourished by the Eucharist.

In a world that pulls us in many directions, the Eucharist strengthens us to live as faithful brothers, neighbors, husbands, fathers, sons, friends, and disciples of Jesus Christ.

Our featured speakers will be Jimmy Akin from Fayetteville and Dr. Marcellino D'Ambrosio, fondly referred to as Dr. Italy.

You'll recognize Jimmy from Catholic Answers and Dr. D'Ambrosio from EWTN and Ascension Press.

Both will challenge us to encounter Christ more deeply and to bring His love into our homes, parishes, workplaces, and communities.

We are looking forward to fellowship with hundreds of men from across the country.

While donations are welcome, there is no fee to attend, and homemade breakfast and lunch are included.

This is an important day for Catholic men, a chance to step away from the demands of daily life, receive the strength of Christ, and return home renewed in our mission.

Registration is required so we can prepare adequately. So

Register today at arcatholicmen.com.

That's arcatholicmen.com.

God bless you and your families, and may the Lord strengthen each of us to live faithfully, courageously, and joyfully as His disciples.

Thank you.

Bishop Anthony B Taylor

How to Advent | Episode 3

The often-forgotten Jesse tree reminds us of God's faithful fulfillment of all his promises (of which there are so many throughout all of salvation history!). In Christ, he keeps every promise he has made, from Adam and Eve to John the Baptist. His promises of peace and salvation apply not just to ancient Israel, but to all of us today. Join us in learning about this hidden gem of an Advent tradition and how it can help you and your family walk through Advent in the light of Sacred Scripture.

The Hour of Our Death | Eternal Rest | Episode 3

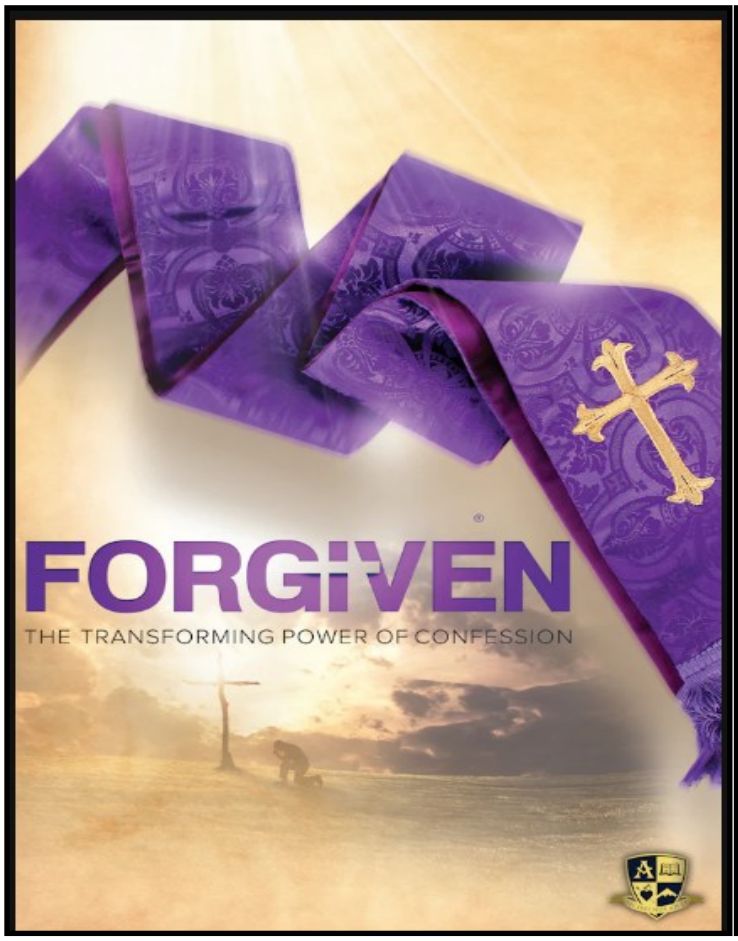

The Anointing of the Sick is one of the seven sacraments of the Church. This session, we discover the role of this sacramental anointing in the spiritual struggle during serious illness, the final stages of our temporal life, and the hour of our death.
